

The teachers' institute will convene Monday morning.

Remember the entertainment at the opera house Monday evening.

District court will be in session at the usual hour Monday morning.

The United States court will convene in this city about the first of September.

Water service was put in yesterday at Tony Bruhn's barber shop on Main street.

Hess' English opera company Monday night. Secure your tickets for "Fra Diavolo."

The following list, which will be printed in Thursday's EAGLE:

Murray Myers has qualified as county auditor, and is now ready for business. He will have an office with Van Ness.

Nearly a dozen new houses are being erected in Lewellen's addition. Most of them will make very handsome and convenient homes.

We understand that the Presbyterian time for holding the Baptist Sunday school picnic will be announced at that church today.

Sunday school is talking of getting up an excursion to Arkansas City, to take place in about two weeks.

Dr. Allen was the recipient of numerous congratulations yesterday from his friends in this city, who hope that he will "get there" election day.

Blaine's letter of acceptance, as published in the DAILY EAGLE yesterday, was read by hundreds of people in this city, and elicited the most flattering comments.

Policeman Snyder ran in three drunken men Friday night, two of whom contributed $5 each to the city treasury yesterday, and being brought into the police court.

The boys who had charge of the El Dorado excursion feel very grateful to all the members of Stearns' band for the excellent music they furnished on that occasion.

Farmers are getting pretty well through with their harvesting, and as a consequence a large number of them were in the city yesterday and our merchants had a lively trade.

In the district court yesterday Mary A. Stidman was granted a divorce from her husband John G. Stidman. This is about the twelfth divorce granted at this term of court.

P. Healy yesterday began tearing down his building on Douglas avenue, formerly occupied by Pollock & Pearce's grocery. He will erect upon the site a two-story brick 100x25 feet.

The funeral of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Friend's little daughter took place yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock from the Catholic church, and was quite generally attended by relatives and friends of the family.

The following figures will show the receipts and disbursements at the county treasurer's office up to the hour of closing business yesterday: Receipts, $22,424; Disbursements, $23,415.

The case of J. C. Davis vs. the A. T. & Santa Fe railroad is yet on trial in the district court and will not be completed for two days. The evidence for the prosecution was closed yesterday.

Yesterday the write had a very pleasant ride behind the new Haskaw coil of W. B. Williams. This is one of the best pieces of young horse flesh in the county, and though only three years old, gives evidence of becoming a fine trotter.

Work is progressing very nicely on the new high school building which is now being erected on Emporia avenue. When completed this will be one of the most convenient as well as the handsomest school houses in Southern Kansas.

"Fra Diavolo" will be presented at the opera house to-morrow evening by the famous Hess English opera company. Those who wish to see a splendid drama produced by a first-class company should not fail to be on hand Monday evening.

A large force of men and teams are now engaged in grading and opening up Waco street north through Lewellen's addition. We understand that the street is to be opened to the old fair grounds. If it is, it will be one of the handsomest thoroughfares in the city.

A man by the name of Smith, who takes care of the railroad engines at Kingman, came near being crushed to death while coupling cars in that city Friday. As it was received terrible injuries, and it will be a long time before he is able to attend to his duties.

Mr. Hill Thomas has returned from Butte City, Idaho, after an absence of several years. He says that times are very lively in the west, and Idaho mines are turning out first-rate. Mr. Thomas was greatly surprised to find how Wichita had improved during his absence.

The pupils of Mr. William Jamieson and Miss Susan Jamieson, both of Clearwater, were celebrated on Thursday at the residence of Mr. John Stewart in this city. Rev. J. D. Hewitt officiating. The happy couple have the best wishes of the Eagle for their future success and prosperity.

The city council will meet to-morrow evening. We are credibly informed that they will take action on the matter of numbering the houses of this city, and it is to be hoped that an ordinance requiring every house in Wichita to be numbered will be adopted and enforced as soon as practicable. We have talked with several members of the council about the matter, and think that a majority of them will favor such a step.

John Egan, the stenographer from Topeka who is taking the evidence in the Davis case in the district court, says that the business in Wichita is not so good as it is in the capital. In fact, Mr. Egan thinks that while Wichita may not be as attractive a city as some others, it does the largest business and is attracting more rapidly than any city in the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Steedman, Mr. and Mrs. Col. Woodcock and Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Heisterman, who will leave for the G. A. R. national encampment this morning, have made arrangements and will be stopping a few days at Minneapolis, a couple of miles north to some one of the most beautiful lakes in Minnesota and spend a week or two hunting and fishing, expecting to camp out. They will undoubtedly have a splendid time.

The teachers' institute for this county will continue at the fourth ward school house in this city to-morrow morning. Superintendent Hammond informs us that all arrangements have been made that will in any way contribute to the interest of the session and to the diffusion of useful knowledge to those who attend. He expects that most of the teachers in the county will be present and aid in making this institute the best ever held in this county. A corps of instructors will be on hand to conduct the various classes.

A man by the name of Thornton writes J. L. Cooper, from South Bend, Indiana, for a couple or three dozen of snakes from two to six feet long, the bull or rattlesnake preferred. He is willing to pay $30 per dozen for healthy specimens, which he wishes to train for shows. The truth is, since the enforcement of prohibition the snake market has been dull, not to say flat, with little demand for any breed, the old supply having been considerably "bulled" and dealers not a little "rattled," while squirting around to find a hole to crawl into.

THE SILENCE OF LIFE.

For the Eagle and the picture.

His face smiles down from the pictured wall. With tender eyes and sunny brow, That have long been hid 'neath the funeral pall,

Though their semblance smiles upon you now, Death came in the rosiest dawn of youth, When his young brow glowed with honor and truth,

And snatched him from thy side. But oh, while you gaze on the sunny hair Pushed carefully back from the youthful brow,

"Thank God he is yours in his boyhood fair, The silence of life cannot sever you now, Your dead is yours; the hurrying years Will not dim the glance of his 'lovely' eye,

Time's silvery frosts nor sorrow's tears Shall pain him not as the years drift by, Deep in the caskets of memory are set Jewels a monarch might crave in vain.

Beautiful words that you cannot forget, 'Till eternally gives you your dead again, What though your home be hid in empyrean, Your idol struck from its cherished place, You have good memories your heart to bless,

As you tearfully gaze on that pictured face, Then kneel in the room that is sacred to him, Thank God he is yours unchanged and fair, Forever yours as the days roll by, By us untrammeled, untouched by care,

He radiant waits on the Heavenly side, With garments unstained by earth's dark strife, And never, never through you shall fall Wider than death the silence of life," M. E. LEASE.

Wichita, Kansas, July 19.

THAT MODOC CLUB.

The following dispatch received in this city yesterday, will explain itself:

(Signed) O. W. FOX.

DIED.

In this city, on the 19th inst., of flux, Stella, daughter of G. and T. N. Ray, aged two years, two months and twenty-one days.

It can be truly said of her that she was the pet of hearts and of the household. Lines to the memory of little Stella Ray, Silent is that voice forever:

Naught can make the gentle tone, But in memory's chamber ever It will echo "Thou art gone."

She's gone, sweet angels have called her, To join them in Heaven above, To dwell forever with her Savior, Where all is peace and love.

So young in years to be taken away, Yet we are taught to know, That God is just in what he does, He wills it to be so. A FRIEND.

PASTEL PAINTING.

Prof. Merriett is still busy in his studio, several very fine portraits are the results of his industry. No one who professes one of these life-speaking portraits will ever regret it. We have often been asked what is a pastel, and wherein does the work differ from the oil. For the first mentioned work the colors are ground and prepared in a paste and then formed into a crayon with which the artist works on his canvas; in the other the colors are applied with a brush. The pastel admits of finer touches and sharper delineations.

Some six years ago Mr. Wm. Flagg, then a resident of this state, left Kansas for the West in quest of bettering his fortune and finding a country of a superior climate in which to locate permanently. After having spent a year or two in Washington Territory, and then in Oregon, California, Arizona and New Mexico, he has returned to the Arkansas Valley, and will make his home in this city, satisfied that no part of

SPECIAL NOTICES.

The following telegram from Commodore Schley was received at the navy department this afternoon:

ST. JOHNS, July 18.—Hon. Wm. E. Chandler, secretary of the navy.—Iron caskets for the dead will be delivered July 25th. So soon as the remains are transferred to them I will sail for New York, advising you when ready. A week's rest for the officers and men, after the incessant labor and peril of the past sixty days, is most welcome to them. Your telegram and that of acting secretary Admiral Nicholls gave me great satisfaction. Please accept our thanks for them. In respect to the memory of those on board the flags of the ship will fly at half mast during my stay. (Signed) W. S. SCHLEY, Commander.

The Force of Nature!

Infinite intelligence controls the forces of nature. Finite intelligence can control but so much of the forces of nature as that intelligence can comprehend. All disease is a disturbance of the laws of nature. To restore to state of equilibrium these disturbed forces, the province of the spiritual healer. As the magnetic currents flow through the human system, so the spiritual currents flow through the human system, and all disease and ailment is but a disturbance of the spiritual magnetic currents. For instance, if you receive a severe blow so as to cause pain you will immediately cry out loud, "Ouch, ouch, ouch," and will not cease rubbing until you have relieved the disturbed magnetic currents. The origin of all disease is a disturbed condition of the spiritual forces. Spiritual power must be obtained from spiritual sources. The prices are elegant, and the money each will be amply repaid for their labor. No letter not repeated in the words "Wichita Art Gallery," can be repeated in any word formed. "Any English word" is the rule that governs. No observations, slang words, or nick names are allowed. All should be promptly at the gallery at 2 p. m. Aug. 1st.
